Mexican hepatology congress in the face of a pandemic

Dear friends and colleagues, as you know, it is a priority to preserve the well-being of all of you. After carefully evaluating the pandemic spread of COVID-19, which is a public health emergency Worldwide; We have made the decision to modify the date and modality of our XV Annual Hepatology Congress.

Our annual congress was planned between June 17 and 20 in Boca del Río Veracruz. Due to improvements and due to logistical adjustments for this contingency, the new date that we have established to carry it out is from July 21 to 26 in VIRTUAL MODALITY.

Providing the highest quality in continuing medical education and a friendly and attractive format.

The decision was difficult after a year preparing every detail of this face-to-face congress with the great challenge of overcoming Puerto Vallarta and dedicating it to you with joy, I have made the determination to first safeguard the integrity of all and be consistent with what we are living.

Today we live in a time of reflection, bring out the best we have of ourselves. It is a great opportunity to grow, we must act in solidarity and in this way we will provide you, our speakers and the great team that accompanies us in this congress with security and academia; In such a way that historically it will be our first virtual National Congress celebrating our XV years.

I send you my gratitude and as doctors we are, I also ask you to take good care of yourselves and I hope that you and your family are well. All courage and always go ahead.

We hope, we will be in touch
